MEDIA RELEASE: Cruel, Insulting: The Government's JobSeeker Cut Traps Millions Of People Into Deep Poverty

Tuesday February 23, 2021

For immediate release

The Government's JobSeeker announcement today is a cruel, insulting decision that traps millions of people into deep poverty.

Anti-Poverty Network SA spokesperson Aidan Jarvis said:

"This decision - a $3.57 a day ($25 a week) raise - is not only pathetic, but actually represents a cut from an already-inadequate rate.

This so-called raise is $50 a week less than what people are receiving right now. What people are receiving right now ($50 a day, including the reduced COVID supplement) is already causing people immense financial stress, and harming people's health. People are already skipping meals and skipping medicines.

This cut, to $43.58 a day, would keep people locked in a severe, constant struggle to keep a roof over their head and put food on the table.

Our position, informed by our members on JobSeeker, people who the Government has ignored and mocked with this embarrassing announcement, has long been that JobSeeker should return above the poverty-line, to the COVID rate of $80 a day ($550 a week).

The COVID rate allowed people to pay their rent, with income left for food, including fresh fruit and vegetables, and health expenses like medications and specialists.

We also note the increased 'Mutual Obligation' requirements. Forcing job-seekers to jump through more and more hoops is a punitive distraction from the Government's failure to create enough jobs to go around. Forcing people to search for more jobs does nothing to address the fact that there is a shortfall of over 1 million jobs.

We will continue campaigning until people on JobSeeker, Youth Allowance, and other payments - indeed, till all Australians - are lifted above the poverty-line."
